COOKS LEAVING RALEIGH.

A New York Bureau Wants Two Thousand of Them.

New York, March 30.—An employment bureau of this city is said to have placed orders in Raleigh N. C., for an unlimited number of negro cooks, house servants, etc. The bureau is said to ask for as many as a thousand of each sex. Cooks are leaving Raleigh daily, in fact there is an exodus.

SIX CENTS INSULT.

Awarded to Negro Because He Wasn't Allowed at White Table.

Pittsburgh, March 30.—The jury in the case of Assistant District Attorney Billows, colored, against William J. McCarthy, a restaurant keeper who refused to serve meals to Billows and his companion, Representative George H. White of North Carolina, also colored, returned a verdict today of six cents in favor of the plaintiff, who asked for five thousand dollars.

THE BURIAL OF JOUBERT.

To Be Private and on His Farm—British Send Wreath.

London, March 30.—A Pretoria dispatch says that Joubert will be buried on his farm at Rustenburg and in accordance with his wishes the ceremonies will not be military but entirely civil and private. The British prisoners at Pretoria have sent a wreath for the funeral.

Reduction in Coal.

Philadelphia, March 30.—It is understood that at the New York meeting today of Anthracite coal dealers a reduction of at least fifty cents on the ton on all sizes will be made to take effect April first.

Increase Postal Appropriations.

Washington, March 30.—The postal appropriation will carry three quarters of a million for the pneumatic tube service. An increase of half a million brings up the total appropriation to between a hundred and thirty-seven and a hundred and fourteen millions.

French Gains Victory.

London, March 30.—The French army in Sahara has won a big victory, in which were killed six hundred tribesmen, and wounded a thousand more, and taking 600 prisoners.

Rapid Work of the Treasury.

Washington, March 30.—The treasury is now disbursing on an average a million dollars daily on account of the premium on bonds exchanged for the new two. These disbursements about offset the excess in revenue.

Proctor Opposes Whole Bill.

Washington, March 30.—Senator Proctor in speaking in favor of the free trade Porto Rico bill announced that he will vote against the combined Porto Rico tariff and civil government bill.

No More Trouble.

Paris, March 30.—The newspapers this morning state that there would be no further interpellations of the government before the adjournment of chambers, which takes place prior to the opening of the exposition.

To Reduce Fares.

Washington, March 30.—Mr. Berry today introduced a bill in the house prescribing that not more than one third cent per mile shall be charged for lower berths and not more than a quarter cent per mile for upper berths in sleeping cars.

British Squadron Ordered Out.

London, March 30.—The special service squadron was today ordered from Gibraltar to the Canary Islands for the ostensible purpose of watching the Cape route, but of course nobody credits this explanation. It is taken as a warning to the powers.

Crush on the Bridge.

New York, March 30.—There was a crush on the Brooklyn bridge this morning owing to the stoppage of cars. Mrs. Tuttle, an aged woman, got caught in the crowd from Brooklyn and while trying to board train her ribs were broken. She was taken to the hospital.

Land Company Organized.

Correspondence to the Telegram.
Charlotte, March 30.—F. C. Abbott and others organized the Piedmont Land Company with a capital stock of $60,000. The company obtains the right to deal in lands in any county of North Carolina, to build telephone lines, construct electric railways, to erect manufacturing plants, etc. The capital stock is divided into 600 shares of $100 each.

The entire corps of teachers of Concord public schools came in this morning to spend the day in Charlotte expecting for making a study of the Charlotte school system and methods.
Superintendent Graham will conduct the party over the school.

vs $100. Why make a gift of $40 $35 to $80 to some rich northern trust when you have so many needy poor at home that needs assistance. The C. I. cough (35c) does as fine work and great variety as any $100 machine. Examine
it. Moore Opt. Co.

DID YOUTSEY DO THE WORK?

EVIDENCE POINTS TO HIM AS THE ASSASSIN OF GOEBEL.

The Story of a Steel Bullet Connects Him With the Deed
And Tangles Him

Frankfort, Ky., March 30.—Since confession became the order of the day, it has developed that the steel bullet which killed Goebel was fired from a rifle, said to be a Marlin, by H. E. Youtsey. The prosecution expects to show that Youtsey sent to Cincinnati for the steel bullet and smokeless-powder cartridges, and that they were sent here to him either by mail or express. Youtsey was seen with the cartridges, and it is stated by witnesses that he is the man who fired the fatal shot. He exhibited an empty shell, with the remark: "The bullet that was in this shell killed Goebel."

Youtsey's rifle has disappeared. He claims that he raffled it off. There are six or seven witnesses, Col. Campbell says, ready to testify for the commonwealth, that directly after the shooting Youtsey ran out of the basement of the building at the back door, went around the corner to the east entrance and up into Taylor's office. He ran swiftly and held his hand clutched to his left trouser leg.

Youtsey admits that he did this, but says it was his pistol which had slipped down, and not his rifle barrel, that was in his trousers leg, causing him to run stiff-legged. It is not known whether he carried his rifle in that way back to the floor above, or whether it was left temporarily in the basement. The statement of the then assistant auditor, Frank Johnson, is that Youtsey was not at his desk when the shot was fired, and when questioned by Mr. Johnson the young man refused to tell where he was when Gobel was shot.

Soon after the shooting, Taylor urged Youtsey to leave Frankfort, so Culton is said to have stated in his confession. Youtsey told this to Cul-ton, who claims that he took Youtsey to Taylor and asked if it were true.
According to this statement, Culton did not know about this part of the conspiracy, and his alleged object was to find out why Taylor was told Youtsey to leave, if the story proved true.

Culton, at the time of the shooting, was in the hall of the house of representatives with eight or ten republicans, said to have been mountain men.
Two men were posted, one down on the steps and one up at the head of the steps. This was said to have been arranged for the purpose of giving a signal to the men up stairs, and it is believed that Culton still thought the plan of starting a riot in the legislative halls in case of a joint session that day was to be carried out. One republican witness has made the statement that the plan was for one of the mountaineers to cry out at the joint session, as the vote was about to be taken, "We demand justice," causing a commotion, and then the shooting was to begin.

Several witnesses, it is said, will testify that while the Frankfort military company was on guard in the arsenal prior to the day of the killing of Gobel, they were never given cartridges or overcoats until the hour before the shot was fired. Therefore they were read and reached the state house twenty minutes after the shooting.

The shots had already been fired when Capt. John Davis and H. Whitaker ran from Taylor's office to the adjutant general's office with an order for the soldiers. It was on their return that Whitaker was arrested at the back door of the executive building. A messenger hurried to the arsenal, four squares away, and the soldiers, all prepared for the emergency, went on the double-quick to the state house. They did not have to lose any time getting their guns and ammunition and their overcoats, but had been put in marching condition an hour before, as these witnesses will swear.

This is the hand held by the Goebel prosecution, according to Col. Campbell's claims yesterday, but the defence of the republicans has not been heard. They claim that they will absolutely establish their innocence.

Do you want a pretty art square?

FORGOTTEN MONEY FOUND.

Executors Find $7,000 Which Bishop Williams Had Apparently Forgotten.

New Haven, Conn., March 30.—The executors of the will of the late Bishop Williams have found that he has had on deposit, in a national bank, about $10,000, which has been untouched for many years, and apparently forgotten. The sum will go to Gerkely Divinity school at Middletown, Conn., as residuary legate.

QUEEN EXPRESSES SYMPATHY.

Telegraphs to Gen. Joubert's Widow
the Feeling of the Nation.

London, March 30.—The Queen has cabled Lord Roberts to express to the widow of Gen. Joubert sympathy of herself and the British nation. The message said: "Tell her that the British people regarded her husband as a gallant soldier and an honorable foeman."

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS TODAY.

Hugh J. Grant was today appointed permanent receiver for the forty second branch of the third avenue railroad.

Archibald Forbes, the noted war correspondent, died in London last night.

The trunk line presidents in New York today talked of advancing train rates.

In New York this morning the steamer Old Dominion caught fire, but was saved, with a loss of $5,000.

A big blizzard is raging in the vicinity of Vienna. Railroads have stopped and there are a number of casualties.

May Be Going to Flushing.

London, March 31.—A Cap town de-patch says that two thousand mounted troops passed through Barkley Monday, and that their destination is unknown. It is supposed that they intended to sweep the district of districts, but the outfit seemed to indicate that an extensive march was contemplated, possibly for the relief of Mafeking.

Step And Think.

Time and again through these columns has the pitiful cry of India's famine millions appeal to you. You certainly are not indifferent; you are only thoughtful. From all according the situation grows more distressing. Could you realize for a moment that it is your duty to do something to help the millions who are dying of starvation and that you would melt with pity and your hand be quick to help. While you delay, the lives you might save are passing beyond relief. "Whoso hath this world's goods, and seeth his brother bath need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?" "Let us not love in word but in deed."

Says Youtsey Could Be Rich by Tel- ling What He Knows.

Lexington, Ky., March 30.—The Morning Herald prints a dispatch from Winchester, stating that James Andrew Scott said, at the Reese house Monday night, that if Youtsey will tell what he knows he can have Taylor and destroy the Republican party in Kentucky. Scott insisted that if Youtsey should confess he could make himself rich, while others said Youtsey had told all he knew and can say nothing more.

A Card From Mr. Boyles.

To the Editor of the Telegram:
The Ostrum was the last attraction on the Popl & Course, which appeared at the Academy of Music last night.
They were very good and came as near pleasing all the people as expected. The entertainments I hope have been as good as any one could expect for the price, 20 cents each. Financially it has not paid, but we are out of debt. If you think it an easy matter to run a course of entertainments just try it one time.
Thanking my friends for the liberal patronage, I am,
Yours Truly,
F. C. Boyles, Mgr.

Advertisers.

McNEIL AND ROGERS ENDORSED.

Special to the Telegram.
Wilmington, March 29.—At a meeting of the Wilmington chamber of commerce this afternoon, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Be it resolved by the chamber of commerce, that Franklin McNeil and Samuel L. Rogers, have discharged the duties of corporation commissioners with high intelligence and marked fidelity to the trust reposed in them, and it is the sense of this chamber that the best interests of the state at large demand their selection and their candidacy is hereby endorsed.

Resolved, that we urge the business interest of the state to co-operate in a determined effort to re-elect these commissioners.

A Dream of Fair Women and Brave Men.
Tonight the fourth entertainment in the Normal College Course will be given by the members of the Adelphi and Cornelian Societies. The programme consists of tableaux representing famous men and women in history in literature, and with each one is given a short explanatory reading, quotation, or song.

Admission to those not holding course tickets, 75c.

After the program an opportunity will be given for the students to meet their friends until 1:30.

Work For Nothing.

After working all day and all night to unstop the sewer running from the S. L. & T. Co. building, digging up the pipe all through the rear lot and down to Davis street, the sewer was found stopped up in the street, simply choked up for lack of flushing. A little attention on the part of the authorities would have saved all this trouble and expense.

THE TELEGRAM AND GOOD ROADS

The Telegram is not hostile, but it believes that it is worth while to keep history straight, even when that history is in itself insignificant. Hence a word as to its past course on a very vital question may not be out of place. And this is especially true since the present management of the Telegram has but recently taken charge of it, and whatever we may say now has reference solely to the paper while in the hands of our predecessors.

What we wish to say now is merely a word regarding the zeal that the paper has displayed from its very foundation in the agitation for road improvement—an agitation largely begun and kept up by this paper. But some one may say, what good has agitation done, we have no roads macadamized? No; that is true. But we will have. The battle is already largely won, because the people are at last aroused on the subject, and there is little doubt now of the final outcome. Earnest, enthusiastic and level headed men are now working on the subject along definite lines over the country, and the very fact that they are doing this and are determined to keep it up, is an assurance that our statement that the battle is half won, is true. This is the one great object before the people of the country now, in which all are equally concerned, and not a day nor an hour should be lost in carrying on the work.

We are proud that the Telegram has always been so conspicuous in the magnificent work of bringing public sentiment up to the point where something definite has been begun, and we hereby pledge its continued and hearty support for the work in the future.

THE TIMES AND LYNCHING.

For sometime we have not seen anything in journalism quite so magnificent as the course of the Richmond Times in regard to the lynching which occurred at Eppora last week, when, by a collusion between the officers of the law and a mob, two prisoners, one a guilty negro and the other an implicated white man, were taken from the jail and lynched. There was not even the excuse that these men had committed the nameless crime. But the community was infuriated, and the sheriff and the judge of the county court doubtless thought that their salvation depended upon helping the mob in its plans, rather than in protecting the prisoners in their charge and upholding the law. And wonderful to relate, the governor of the state, who had placed troops to guard and protect the law, withdrew them on the order of the sheriff, in the very face of the fact that the officer in command told him squarely that just as soon as the troops were withdrawn, the prisoners would be surrendered to the mob.

The Richmond Times has shown up in a manner that required courage. It has been unsparing in its denunciations from the governor down, and has shown the proceedings in their true light and in their hideousness. But most of all it has been justly severe upon Governor Tyler. We say that it takes courage to pursue the course which the Times has been following in defying official influence and power and public sentiment at the same time. After a while, the people of Virginia will recognize the service which the paper has done in standing for the honor of the state and the integrity of the law. The value of a paper like the Times to a commonwealth is simply incalculable. All honor to it.

The Messenger never referred to Rev. C. M. Sheldon and the "blasphemous business" but once. In fact he is a character who never interested us. He is of the sensational sort. He loves money and court notoriety. Leastwise that is the way it strikes us. He may be earnest and honest, but he is full of the make. A special from Topeka, Kan., says that he will receive from $10,000 to $20,000 for his part of the profits from his week's editing. Much better men work a year for one-tenth of that sum. To men who love and adore and honor and serve the blessed Lord Jesus anything connected with Him of the mountebank and blasphemous kind is absolutely abhorrent. The idea of announcing that any fellow would endeavor to attempt to conduct a newspaper of a secular kind as the Son of God would conduct it is presumptuous, abominable, despicable.—Wilmington Messenger.

The Messenger is quite hard on Mr. Sheldon, and though the heart of the editor of the Messenger is in the right place if anybody's is, we think his judgment has erred a little on this subject, especially that a certain advertisement upon which this judgment was partly based, has been shown to have crept into the paper by an oversight. There is quite a difference in condemning Mr. Sheldon's efforts and methods and impeaching his intentions.

THE BIG TAIL AS AN EMIGRANT.

Down in Union county there is an estimable old gentleman who maintains that the Chinese could whip the world if they would only go about it in the right way. He says that they could invade the United States and subjugate the country without firing a gun, using powder, dynamite or lyddite, or other explosive. He says that with the co-operation of the Chinese officials in furnishing him men, he could lead an army into Germany or any other country and capture it in no time. His novel way of doing this would be to take over enough celestials to devour all the provisions in the country which was invaded. He thinks as the supply of Chinamen are inexhaustible such a band of them could be dumped into any country, that, like the army worm, they could devour everything in their path, and thus soon put it on a starvation basis. The way in which the Chinese are emigrating from their own country, without so much as being misled at home, is certainly evidence that the celestial empire could furnish enough gastronomic soldiers for an invasion such as planned by the old gentleman, and did the enemy spring no mine or other devilish devices upon them, they would certainly soon be crying for more worlds to conquer.

From a statement in the New York Sun we learn that fifty years ago scarcely one hundred thousand Chinese were living outside their own country. Thirty years ago the number living in other countries of Asia was estimated at two million five hundred thousand. Two years ago the figure had increased to six millions. Since then the emigration has been larger than ever, though it has dropped to very small proportions in its relation to all except Asiatic countries. Careful inquiries were made recently by French officials in view of the growth of Chinese immigration into Cochinchina and other French possessions, and the conclusion was reached that about ten million Chinese are now living in other countries, and over nine tenths of them have settled in lands bordering on the China sea, the Gulf of Bengal and the East Indies Archipelago.

At the rate that Chinamen can move from home, were they invited freely to this country, they would swamp us in ten years. But one thing about the pig tail is that wherever he goes he carries his energy and thrift along with him, and while, when he comes to America or Europe he is forced to occupy very inferior places in the social fabric; when he goes to Asiatic countries he usually proves himself superior to the natives.

Still quoting from the Sun, we find that "wherever they go, Asiatic, as in America, industrious and law abiding, and preserving the customs of their native land. In one respect, however, their position differs widely from that which they occupy in America and Australasia. They are superior in energy and business ability to the people among whom they live, are absorbing a great deal of the retail and other trade, and are becoming more and more an important element in the enterprises of south Asia as far west as Calcutta. Relious wrote, years ago, that they had created the prosperity of Singapore, and a German author has said recently that Chinese immigrants own two thirds of the real estate in that city, hold positions of influence and honor, and provide some of the members of the legislative council. Most of the coast trade from China to Burma is in the hands of these immigrants. They form three-fifths of the population of Bangkok, the capital of Siam, are found in large numbers in all the coast towns of Burma, comprise most of the artisans of Java, are a large element in the population of British North Borneo, are prominent as retail merchants in the Philippines, 20,000 of them living in Manila, and are the leading commercial factor in French Cochinchina. There are natural difficulties in the way of immigration into a region so densely peopled as India; but still there are thousands of Chinese in Calcutta, and the carpenter and shoemaker trades of that city are almost monopolized by them."

Gulfport and Eton Play Tomorrow
Correspondence of the Telegram
Gulfport College, March 30 A game of ball will take place here tomorrow between Eton College and our base ball team. The boys from Eton have a strong team and the game will no doubt be closely contested. Greensboro should not fail to see this game, if it wants to see an interesting exhibition of good playing. Game called at 2 p. m. Admission 25 cents.

Experts say that the peanut yield this season will reach nearly 4,500,000 bushels of 22 pounds each. The bulk of the crop is produced in Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina. The American yield constitutes but a small proportion of the peanut crop of the world, as the exportation from Africa and India to Europe is nearly 400,000,000 pounds annually, half of which goes to Marseilles to be made into oil.

OAK RIDGE AND WHITEST

Their Teams Will Cross Bats at the Former Place Saturday.

Correspondence of the Telegram.
Whitest, March 29.—The following is the schedule of the Whitest base ball team:
Oak Ridge, at Oak Ridge, March 31st.
Bingham, Mebane, at Mebane, April 2nd.

A. & M. College, at Raleigh, April 14th.
Guilford College, at Graham, April 15th.
Oak Ridge at Whitest, April 19th.
Bingham, Mebane, at Whitest, April 23rd.
Guilford College, at Guilford College, April 28th.

These dates are subject to change. The senior class of 1903 has planted its tree. Several very appropriate remarks were made by the members.

Dr. Roberson of Greensboro, was down a few days ago.

Mr. W. M. Clapp, of Salisbury is at home now.

The young men who expect to deliver orations here next May are hard at work, but the senior examinations are very difficult and they need all the time they can get.

Our "little" baseball team will go up to Oak Ridge Saturday to meet the "giants," and we have no idea that our boys will even score, as our pitcher is sick; but as we wish to cultivate an amiable spirit among high schools in the state, "let 'er go."

We trust our boys will manage to avoid any demonstration (?) on their way home.

Our literary societies are now doing some good work; all the members are participating. The Orator's Medal, to be given to the young gentleman who best acquitted himself, has caused an increased society enthusiasm.

Your correspondent wishes to correct the score of the game of ball played between Guilford and Whitest. The score is Guilford twelve, Whitest three.

MARRIAGE POSSIBILITIES.

An Enterprising Man May Be Legally Tied up 22 Times in 5 Years.

Correspondence of the Telegram.
Charlotte, March 19.—The second session of the International Reform Association was addressed by Dr. McAllister, of Pittsburg. The subject was "The American Home." The speaker said that during the last twenty years 328,000 divorces had been granted in the United States against only 5,000 in England. He said that a New York lawyer on careful investigation stated that a man under existing marriage laws in many states could have New York, and during an absence of five years would return home after marrying twenty-two different wives and yet the whole transaction would be legal.

After Dr. McAllister ceased Dr. George arose and among other subjects hit the Sunday newspaper a terrible blow. He stated that of all secular things on Sunday, the Sunday newspaper excelled and it was right to publish a Sunday paper. It was also right for the plowman to take his plow and go to work; it was right for the factory to start its wheels humming and for the mechanic to ply his trade. The trustees of Davidson College met here yesterday. The reports from the college were all very satisfactory. The enrollment last year was larger than on any previous year.

NEW KISSING BUG.

Which is on its Way From Mexico and is a Terror.

New York Journal.
The kissing bug of last summer was largely a myth, industriously discovered and exploited upon by the country correspondents of the metropolitan press. The impending kissing bug is vouched for by no less an authority than Dr. L. O. Howard, chief entomologist of the department of agriculture in Washington. With great difficulty he captured the one leaping from tree to tree and crag to crag in the wilds of New Mexico. The bug was secured, a picture taken of it and Howard showed lantern slide views of it to the students of Yale College the other night.

The bug comes from the Rio Grande Valley. It is feared and avoided by white men, and, being a big bug, never bothers a Mexican. Great colonies of the bug, according to Dr. Howard, are making their way northward with almost incredible speed, kissing as they travel and spreading desolation in their path, for the kiss of the ferocious denizen of the Bad Lands is often fatal.

Although a governor of Virginia is not to be elected until next year, the canvass for the democratic nomination has already begun, and the list of candidates includes Attorney General A. J. Montague, J. Taylor Blynn, chairman of the state democratic committee; Congressman Claude A. Swanson, of Chatham; Lieutenant Governor Edward Kohlsaat and Col. R. C. Marshall of Portsmouth.

Ex-Vice President Adlai Stevenson is preparing for a journey to Hawaii and the Philippines. He starts out as an anti-imperialist, according to the Springfield Republican, which is in evident error lest he return converted.

GLENDOWER—"I can call spirits from the vasty deep."

HOTSPUR—"Why, so can I, or so can any man."

"But will they come when you do call for them?"—SHAKESPEARE.
How quickly Hotspur's wife and witty retort tears the tragic mantle in which Glendower stalks, and shows beneath the seer's robe, the motley of the mountebank. Most people would have taken the Welchman at his word, and called him seer, without noting the difference between a call and to command.

Certain points of comparison are suggested between Glendower's tragic claim and the comic claim in some of our advertisements. "I am a woman, I know all about woman. I understand woman, and I can cure woman because I am a woman." The modern Mrs. Hotspur puts her finger right on the weak spot of that clamorous claim by saying: "Why if you can cure woman simply because you are a woman, then so can I and so can any woman." Which very plainly brings out the common sense fact that the cure of diseases does not depend upon being a man or being a woman, but does depend upon being a trained and experienced physician.

There is, as far as is known, no qualified woman physician associated with the proprietors of the medicine firm. It is certain that there is no one, man or woman, who can show an experience or record equal to that of Dr. R. V. Pierce, more than thirty years of treatment of women's diseases with ninety-eight per cent. cured out of more than half-a-million women treated. Since we are entirely of suit Dr. Pierce by letter absolutely free of charge. Every letter is held as strictly private and sacred. All answers are mailed securely sealed in perfectly plain envelopes. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Mile a Minute Down the Alps.
The spot in the Swiss Alps that attracts the winter sportsmen of Europe is the Cresta run, at St. Moritz, which is just one mile in length. The tobogganing season here begins about the middle of November, when the first snow falls. The condition of the run is not left to chance, but the slide is prepared under the direction of a committee. Swiss toboggans in contrast to those of the United States are entirely of wood, are raised on runners shod with iron or steel. The expert rider lies prone upon the toboggan, head foremost, both hands grasping the framework at the sides and both feet employed in steering. Iron spikes are secured to the toes of the boots, and by trailing one or the other foot along the ground the sled may be guided. But as the fashion of steering tends to diminish the speed the most skilled riders use the feet as little as possible and depend upon shifting the position. Though the Cresta run is a mile in length, the whole distance may be covered in 70 seconds. At the steepest point a mile a minute is made.

The Dangerous Road.
An Ass once enveloped himself in a Lion's Skin, hoping that he would thereby Escape Annoyance from the Rest of the Brute Creation.

But seeing a Tiger approaching, and fearing his inability to look as fierce as his Assumed Character required, he at once turned his back toward the Tiger and remained motionless.

"Ah!" said the Tiger to himself, "For once mine ancient Enemy, the Lion, has relaxed his usual Vigilance. I'll steal upon him from behind, and then I shall have him in the morning. But his Victorious Spring was met by the Heels of the Ass, and lo! the Tiger had Predicted his own Funeral."

Moral.—It's usually Policy to Attack the Enemy in the Rear, but there are Exceptions to every Rule. Always remember, in dealing with an Ass (human or otherwise), that the end containing his Brains is less Dangerous than the one furnished with Hoofs.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Bit of the Colonial.

Ezekiel loved Mercy madly, but it was necessary, since they were colonial, to be very quiet about it. "Willst thou come and bake my bread?" asked Ezekiel accordingly. "No," replied Mercy, with candor, "for I shall not need thy dough."

From this we gather that Mercy was somewhat rich in her own right.—Detroit Journal.

SGROFULA AND ITS AWFUL HORRORS

—CURED BY—
Johnston's Sarsaparilla
QUART BOTTLES.
A MOST WONDERFUL CURE.

A Grand Old Lady Gives Her Experience.
Mrs. Thankful Orilla Hurd lives in the beautiful village of Brighton, Livingston Co., Mich. This venerable and highly respected lady was born in the year 1812, of the great war, in Helron, Washington Co., New York. She came to Michigan in 1840, the year of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." All her faculties are excellently preserved, and possessing a very retentive memory, her mind is full of interesting reminiscences of her early life, of the early days of the State of Michigan and the interesting and remarkable people she has met, and the stirring events of which she was a witness. But nothing in her varied and manifold recollections are more marvelous and worthy of attention than are her experiences in the use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. Mrs. Hurd inherited a tendency and predisposition to scrofula, that terribly destructive blood taint which has cursed and is cursing the lives of thousands and marking thousands more as victims of the death angel. Transmitted from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or groin, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

Speaking of her case, Mrs. Hurd says: "I was troubled for many years with a bad skin disease. My arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. My neck began to swell and became very unsightly in appearance. My body was covered with scrofulous eruptions. My eyes were also greatly inflamed and my head ached severely. My blood was in a very bad condition and my head ached severely at frequent intervals, and I had no appetite. I had sores also in my ears. I was in a miserable condition. I had tried every remedy that had been recommended, and doctor after doctor had failed. One of the best physicians in the state told me I must die of scrofulous consumption, as internal abscesses were beginning to form. I at length was told of Dr. Johnston, of Detroit, and thing else, as I had no faith in it, and greatly to my agreeable surprise, I began to grow better. You can be sure I kept on taking it. I took a great many bottles. But I steadily improved until I became entirely well. All the terrible and painful symptoms disappeared. I gained perfect health, and I have never been troubled with scrofula since. Of course an old lady of 83 years is not a young woman, but I have had remarkably good health since then, and I firmly believe that JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is the greatest blood purifier and the best medicine in the wide world, both for scrofula and as a spring medicine." This remarkably interesting old lady did not look to be more than sixty, and she repeated several times, "I believe my life was saved by JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA."

THE Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION

Committees Canvassing For Home For Delegates.

The local committees having in charge the work of arranging for the meeting of the State Y. M. C. A. convention to be held in the First Presbyterian church, this city, held their next Thursday night April 5th, are canvassing for homes for the delegates. Over a hundred of the best young men in the state will be in attendance, and Greensboro will do her duty in taking care of them.

The following colleges and schools will be represented: University of North Carolina, A. & M. College, Raleigh, Wake Forest, Trinity, Trinity Park High School, Elton College, Bingham School, Mebane, Whitcomb Institute, Guilford College, Oak Ridge Institute, Catawba College, Weaverville College, Bingham School, Asheville, Davidson College, North Carolina Medical College.

Besides these the following cities and towns will also be represented: Wilmington, Charlotte, Asheville, Winston, Maxton and North Wilkesboro. Prominent association men from on side the state will also be here, among whom we notice: Mr. W. H. Morris, general secretary of Baltimore, who will deliver the opening address; H. C. Williams, International Railroad Y. M. C. A. secretary of New York; S. M. I. A. state secretary of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg; and G. Mebane Smith of Richmond, college secretary of Virginia.

The opening exercises will be held on Thursday night. The address of Mr. Morris will be illustrated by stereoscopic views. The people of the city are cordially invited to attend all the services.

Meeting at Baptist Church
Mr. Willman preached on "Dependence of last night. It was a strong sermon, and enjoyed by all who heard it. Services tonight at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Emily Fields Dead
Mrs. Emily Fields, widow of the late Christopher Fields, died of paralysis yesterday at her home at Guilford College. Two children survive her, Mr. Allen J. Fields, of Elmore, Ga., and a daughter, Miss Ada Fields, who is in school at Guilford College, and who was at her mother's bedside when she died. The remains will be interred at Providence, Randolph county, tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. Mr. Allen J. Fields, the absent son, arrived with his wife last night. Mrs. Fields is spoken of by those who knew her as a noble, Christian woman.

Machinery Running Again
For the last day or two the elevator and electrical machinery at the Southern Loan and Trust Company's building has been at a standstill, as a result of the backing of water from the sewer into the boiler pit. There was no defect in the sewerage of the building but after twenty-four hours search the plumbers found the main sewer in Davis street stopped up and this caused the trouble. The Southern Loan and Trust Company people have deplored more than anybody else the stopping for a day and a half, but these unforeseen and unavoidable accidents will occur. Two relays of men were kept at work all night last night so that as little inconvenience as possible might result to the public.

DEWEY'S AMBIGUOUS REMARK

DON'T TAKE MUCH BRAINS TO BE PRESIDENT.

Admiral and Mrs. Dewey Come to the Platform and Talk to a Greensboro Crowd, and Are Enthusiastically Cheered

At the depot in Greensboro today Admiral George Dewey let out a double-barreled remark that might betaken in two ways. "I don't take much brains to be president," he said.

The special car in which Admiral and Mrs. Dewey are returning from their southern trip was at the depot at the first section of the noon train today. When the train pulled in quite a little crowd gathered at the rear of Dewey's car, and pretty soon began calling for him. The Admiral quite graciously responded by "raising out and raising his hat. Then the crowd began to ask him to say something. "I wish I could make you a speech," he said, "but I don't know what to say."

"You are in the Tar Heel state now, Admiral," some one sang out. "Yes," he replied, "and in Greensboro; you have a good state and a good town." Some one in the crowd at this point asked for a speech in such pleading tones that the Admiral was touched, and replied: "I said you have a nice town, I didn't know what else to say."

Quite a little conversation of this kind was carried on between the crowd and Dewey. The Admiral was very dignified and apparently suffering from nervousness. He several times thanked the crowd for their kind expressions, and all the while appeared as if he would like for the train to go. He was dressed in a neat suit of gray, with a cutaway coat. Mrs. Dewey was sitting at the window, and appeared pleased indeed when some one said, "Admiral, I think you would make a good president." If she had been disappointed not to be pleased with that Greensboro crowd, this remark drove away any such disposition and she was a new-born devotee of sailors. As the Admiral turned to go into the car, some one proposed three cheers for Mrs. Dewey, and as the crowd gave them, that lady began to rise to come out, and the Admiral assisted her, remarking, "Yes, get out where they can see." "Three more," said the leader in the cheering, and as they were given Mrs. Dewey bowed very elaborately and returned to her seat. The Admiral looked very pleased at the attention to his wife.

Then the hero came back and resumed what appeared to be, to him, an embarrassing conversation, because as he said, he didn't know what to say. Mr. W. R. Land was spokesman for the crowd, and just before the train pulled out he said, "Admiral, a gentleman has suggested that you would make a good president." "I reckon I would," replied Dewey. "It doesn't take much brains to be that officer," the crowd seemed to instinctively jump at the conclusion that this was a "throw out" on the president, and as if it were a conscious thing he had made a remark that might be misunderstood, Dewey looked embarrassed, but the train pulled out just then and relieved him.

CLOSE OF THE COURSE

The Ottomans at the Academy of Music Last Night.

The People's Course of Entertainment in this city, managed by Mr. F. C. Boyles, closed last night with the concert by "The Ottomans." The audience of music was filled with an appreciative and applause was liberal and frequent. The company is composed of Edw. Weeks, first tenor; B. B. Brock, second tenor; E. W. Peterson, baritone; Geo. H. Lott, bass, and Mrs. Jessie Richmond, contralto.

The program was a select one, and the program was very cleverly planned. The music was of the highest quality, and the company of fairly good voices, and once or twice received double honors. The recitations of Miss Kinsman, "The Last Word," "The Soul of the Violin," "By Any Other Name," "Rock-a-bye Land," etc., were rendered with a finish in tone and expression seldom attained.

Before the entertainment began Mr. Frank Rogers appeared on the stage and announced that the last number of the course was about to be given. He thanked the audience and regretted the small seating capacity of the building, but said he had done the best he could. He knew he had made mistakes, but couldn't help it, and promised himself not to undertake a like feat again. He is to be congratulated on getting through with so little friction. A few have been disappointed in getting the seats they wished or thought they were entitled to, but it is hard to please everybody, and the man who undertakes it is sure to fail. On the whole the people's course has been a big success, and the management is to be congratulated.

Something at the A & M Tonight.
To the Editor of the Telegram:
The Choral Union tonight promises a rare literary treat. The public generally will be amply compensated for any expense or effort made to be present. The characters are all well selected and enter fully into the spirit of the play. Admission only 10 cents. A cordial invitation is extended to the good people of Greensboro.

Bringing His Help.
The Durham Morning Herald says: A number of colored people, men, women and boys, left here yesterday for Greensboro, to act as cooks and waiters at the Benbow hotel, which is now ready to open. This hotel has recently been leased by Mr. Howell Cobb, proprietor of the Hotel Carolina.

The Weather.
For North Carolina: Fair tonight except showers near the coast. Cold in southern portion. Saturday fair, winds becoming fresh northwesterly; probably light frost tonight in west and central portions.

MARCH WINDS

Not Blowing Hard, Hence Not Very Many Items.

A dream of Fair Women And Brave Men at the State Normal College Tonight.

Tableaux vivants at the State Normal and Industrial College tonight.

An adjourned meeting of the board of aldermen will be held at the city clerk's office tonight.

Rt. Rev. Jos. Blount Cheshire, bishop of North Carolina, will preach and confirm at St. Andrew's church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

One of the best speakers in the state, Major H. A. London, will discuss the constitutional amendment at the court house tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Miss Martha Brown, of New York, is again with Mrs. Cator & Co., having arrived last evening. Miss Flora Hartsell is also with them this season.

Miss Jane McGahey, who lived eight miles east of town, died yesterday of pneumonia. She was very old, probably between seventy-five and eighty.

It was reported here today that Jim Cook, the wounded convict, died last night. The report is now confirmed, and we are inclined to doubt it, as the authorities have not been notified.

Mr. E. K. Huff has about completed a delivery wagon for Phoenix that is a beauty. It is claret colored with apple green wheels, and reflects credit on Mr. Huff, who is an artist in his line of work.

The democratic township and precinct primaries will be held tomorrow afternoon. The places and order for holding the primaries in the city will be found advertised elsewhere in this paper.

The new building for R. G. Fortune & Co., is finished and last night and today they began moving their big stock and unpacking new goods. They will in a few days, be in full blast in their new quarters.

Carpenters were at work last night in the store of D. Benheim & Sons, widening the shelves in the ladies fine dress department. This progressive firm is keeping well up with the procession in making improvements.

A nice walkway has been made through the alley between the City National Bank and the People's Savings Bank to accommodate people who want to take a short cut to the barber shop in the S. L. & T. building.

The rehearsal of the Easter Cantata tonight will be at the home of Mrs. Van Noppen, West Gaston street, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. The management strongly desires a full attendance of all who have promised to sing.

Invitations to attend the entertainment at the State Normal tonight have been sent the president and faculty of the University, and the two societies, the Philanthropic and Dialectic. A delegation is expected on the evening's train.

Major H. A. London, of Pittsboro, editor of the Chatham Record, was here today and went to Winston, where he speaks on the constitutional amendment before the Forsyth county democratic convention tomorrow. He will speak in Greensboro tomorrow night.

SAILED FOR EUROPE.

Some Relatives of Greensboro People In the Party.

We copy the following item from the Washington Star, of Wednesday. Mrs. Robert G. Callum and son, members of the party, have relatives in Greensboro:

"Among the Washingtonians who sailed for Europe from New York this morning aboard the American liner New York was a party consisting of Mrs. Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tallmadge; A. Lambert; Mrs. Robert G. Callum and son, Miss Gannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Gannon, and Miss Mary Warner, daughter of Mr. B. H. Warner. The members of the party expect to visit in company the continent and the British Isles for a stay of eight or ten months. They spent a portion of the time in Paris, in attendance upon the exposition. Quite a number of friends of the voyagers accompanied them from this city to New York, leaving at 10 o'clock last evening in a private car, on the Pennsylvania railroad, and chartering a tug this morning, sailed alongside the big ocean liner as far as the Narrows, there waving a final adieu to the departing relatives and friends."

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's price. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity. They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price in new costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.
